If you answered 'yes' to questions 1-4 above, you may claim financial independence and should send your own information, not your parents. NB: if your 1040 Tax Return shows earnings under $15,000, it is difficult to believe you have no financial support.

If you answered 'no' to questions 5-10 above, you may not claim financial independence and should send your parents' information, not yours.

I have answered the above questions truthfully.
